William B. Saxbe

William B. Saxbe Hooding Speaker

As one of the most distinguished graduates of the College of Law, William B. Saxbe has achieved in his active life more as a lawyer, public servant and businessman than most could aspire to in one career. His many achievements of national distinction reflect his sense of high personal integrity and commitment. Throughout his career, as today, he is an inspiration to young lawyers.

Bill Saxbe was born in Mechanicsburg, Ohio where he still maintains his home. Study for his A.B. degree (1940) and his J.D. degree (1948), both from The Ohio State University, was interrupted by World War II in which he served as a bomber pilot. As a returning veteran, he wasted little time in initiating his career. While still a law student, he won his first election to the Ohio General Assembly. As an Ohio Representative from 1947 to 1954, he served as majority leader and Speaker of the House. Upon leaving the legislature, he pursued private practice until his election as Attorney General of the State of Ohio in 1956. He served the State as Attorney General from 1957 to 1958 and again from 1963 to 1968 at which time he was elected to the United States Senate. Near the conclusion of his term as Senator he was called upon to be the nation's chief legal officer. In January 1974 he was appointed Attorney General of the United States by President Richard M. Nixon. He provided steady and firm leadership to the Department of Justice during turbulent Watergate days. In 1975 he was appointed Ambassador to India, a position he held until he retired from government in 1977 after thirty years of exemplary public service. In 1975, he was awarded the University's highest distinction, an Honorary Doctor of Laws.

Today, Mr. Saxbe maintains his own law practice from Mechanicsburg and is also associated with the law firm Pierson, Ball & Dowd of Washington, D.C. He is a member of the board of directors of various major companies. In 1983, he was appointed as Independent Counsel to the Central States Teamsters Pension Fund under special control of the Labor Department and federal court because of widespread corruption in fund management. He and his wife, Dolly Kleinhans Saxbe, have three children. A son, Charles R. Saxbe, is a 1975 graduate of the College of Law.

Alma Mater - Carmen Ohio

Led by Jeffrey Keith Lurie

Oh! come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat and Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship—Ohio.

Outstanding Academic Achievement Recognitions

The following students (alphabetically and not by ranking) represent approximately the upper 10% of the 1988 Graduating Class based upon academic performance through the conclusion of the 1987 Autumn semester of law study. Ranking for official degree honors and election to the Order of the Coif cannot be determined until submission of all final grades for June graduates. Numerical divisions among students for special honors are often determined by very narrow margins.

Outstanding Professor Award

Awarded by election of the members of the third-year class in recognition of outstanding performance as a teacher.

Professor Douglas J. Whaley

Professor Douglas J. Whaley has been a member of the faculty since 1976 and teaches primarily in the areas of Contracts and Commercial Law. His outstanding contributions to the College of Law and to legal scholarship were recognized in 1987 by his appointment as the Shocknessy Professor of Law. His teaching skills are demonstrated by the publication of five successful "Problems and Materials" casebooks which are used throughout the country: Negotiable Instruments (1981); Secured Transactions (1982); Sales (1983), with Professor Rivera; Commercial Law (1986), and Contracts (1987), with Professor Crandall. He is currently under contract with his publisher Little, Brown and Company to produce a multi-volume treatise on The Law of Commerce. Students are also familiar with his popular Gilbert Summaries in Sales, Secured Transactions and Commercial Paper.

Students appreciate Professor Whaley's talents both in and out of the classroom. He is a source of counsel to first-year students and others; his wit and talents also contribute to a sense of community within the law school. He has directed the College's "Trial By Jury" productions and annually coordinates the faculty talent skit and the faculty-student Trivia Contest. Professor Whaley is a prior recipient of this award.

Professor Whaley received his B.A. degree from the University of Maryland and his J.D. from the University of Texas. Prior to entering law teaching, he practiced with the Chicago law firm of Chapman & Cutler.

The Juris Doctor Hood

Ceremonies and symbolism share an important part of the human experience by providing tangible signs of personal achievement and commitments. Today, the investment of the Juris Doctor Hood and the presentation of the diploma case, soon to be filled with the official Juris Doctor degree of The Ohio State University, acknowledge hard work, dedication, and exceptional academic achievement of the graduates of the Class of 1988. The investment of the hood also manifests for each recipient a continuing commitment to the values and obligations represented by the Juris Doctor degree. This ceremony marks for the members of the Class of 1988 passage from the status of student to entry into the learned profession of the law.

The wearing of the academic hood is a centuries-old tradition. It is an enduring symbol of high academic achievement and it shall be the privilege of each recipient so invested to wear this hood and gown whenever in the future such academic attire is appropriate. The colors of the hood have their own symbolism. The color of purple represents the study of law and the conferral of the Juris Doctor degree. The colors of the hood lining represent the degree-granting institution, the scarlet and gray of The Ohio State University.
